How Important is Indoor Air Quality?

Considering that most people spend 90 percent of their time indoors, breathing an estimated 2,300 gallons of air every day, indoor air can be a key factor in your quality of life. Indoor air pollution can aggravate allergies, asthma, and other respiratory ailments.

How Clean is Your Indoor Air?

Your home is the one place you should feel safe, it's your comfort zone. However, the air inside your home could be up to five times more polluted than outside air. Pollen and mold spores enter through open doors and windows, bacteria and viruses spread between family and friends, fine dust particles get kicked up from floors and furniture, dander and hair fall from pets. These contaminants can circulate in the air throughout your home spreading disease or triggering allergic and asthmatic reactions. You don't need to hold your breath. Carrier has a complete line of air filtration and purification products designed to enhance the air quality in your home – led by the exclusive Infinity® air purifier.

The Infinity air purifier is Carrier's premier air purification solution.
